

LAWYER LAMB REVEALS PETER POWER PLOT.

Fighting Counsel for the Plaintiffs in the Suit Against Northern Pacific Tells in Minute Detail Who Were Back of Him in the Litigation.

...the talk over the wire was unsatisfactory and he would go down to Oyster Bay the next day.
"Who suggested you go to Europe?"
"Mr. Lamb said Mr. Chandler had suggested that I leave the city. What is true. His account of my trip to West Hurley and Montreal is correct. Lamb also told me Mr. Weidenfeld wanted me to go to Europe."
"How long have you known J. E.
Brooks?"
"I don't know J. E., but there is a Brooks on Ninety-third street who likes automobile rides."
"Did you tell him you kept out of the way when wanted and that when the injunction was obtained your weekly allowance was cut from $45 to $20?"
"No. If he says so it is untrue."
"Do you know Mr. Thomas?"
"No, sir."
"Nor Mr. Boudin?"
"I do not, only what I have read in the newspapers."
At this moment when greater revelations were expected Mr. Kellogg said abruptly: "That is all."
Power seemed as much surprised as the spectators, who felt that Peter Power had been dealt with in the most lenient manner.
"Did you then examine his client?"
"Did you receive telegrams as well as Capt. Stern in Chicago, Mr. Power?"
"Oh, yes."
"Did you overhear a conversation to the effect that I was to receive telegrams in your name although written by Capt. Stern?"
"Oh, yes."
"Did you send me a large number of telegrams from Capt. Stern?"
"Yes."

Stock Pinned to His Shirt.
"Didn't Capt. Stern tell you he was carrying a stick for you?"
"Yes. He said he had it pinned to his shirt."
"Did I not tell you that my clients desired that you should not testify in this suit?"
"Yes."
"Do you remember an occasion when I told you you had not down and testify at the annual hearing?"
"Yes, but Mr. Chandler came down and said that I had been improperly served."
"Were you prepared to testify?"
"I was."
"Did you ever call up Mr. Bourke Cockran and Mr. Chandler on the phone from my office?"
"Yes, forty or fifty times."
"Isn't it a fact that for the past six

LAWYER LAMB.

months you have done practical work in my office as a law student?"
"I have."
"Were you ever a chauffeur in my employment?"
"No. That statement is false."
"That ended Peter Power's ordeal for the day.
An adjournment was then taken until Tuesday at 11 o'clock.
Want Him Kept in Jail.
Immediately after the termination of Power's examination Attorney Lamb announced that it was his intention to appear before Judge Lacombe and ask that he remit the rest of the sentence
and order the release of Power.
Attorney Guthrie asked:
"Where do you intend to do this? In Albany, N. Y.?"
"No," said Lamb. "We understand Judge Lacombe is now in this building."
"I shall certainly oppose it," said Guthrie. "Jail is the place for him till this matter is settled."

LAWYER LAMB LAYS BARE THE WHOLE PLOT.

Immediately before the star witness,
Peter Power, was heard Lawyer Lamb went through a sharp examination.
"I understood yesterday," said Mr.
Guthrie, "from your statement to Judge
Lacombe, that you had not been admitted to practice in this court."
Mr. Lamb evaded the question.
"Did you or did you not so state?"
demanded Mr. Guthrie.
"All that I stated was that I was privileged by the courtesy of the Minnesota Court to practice there. When a New York lawyer thus presents himself it is usual to permit him. Judge Lancaster, who sat beside me in that court, allowed me to conduct all the pleadings in person, and I believe that Judge Lancaster did obtain the courtesy of the Federal Court of Minnesota in my behalf."

Lamb Answers "Yes."
"Then you were an attorney of record
in this Power suit in Minnesota?"
asked Mr. Guthrie.
"Yes."
Mr. Guthrie produced copies of complaints in similar suits against the Northern Securities Company, in which Boudin, Marquand and others appear as plaintiffs, and asked Mr. Lamb if his firm appeared as attorneys in those cases.
Judge Lancaster Acts.
Mr. Lamb said that in the case of

THE MEN BACK
OF PETER POWER.
BOURKE COCKRAN,
CAMILLE WEIDENFELD,
EDWIN H. THOMAS,
E. M. POST,
CONTENT & CO.

Power Judge Lancaster drew up the complaint. "This was after a rough draft had been made by Mr. Bulkyer, following a conference with Mr. Bulkyer,
Mr. Moore and Judge Lancaster.
"The Fouden suit likewise."
"Yes, the same circumstances apply."
The lawyer witness added that after giving the above-mentioned gentlemen
the facts the papers were drawn.
"When was your first trip West in connection with these suits?"
"About Dec. 25."
"How long were you absent?"
"I went to Chicago and, accompanied by Mr. Moore, we went to Minneapolis."
Power was With Him.
"Who else accompanied you from Chicago?"
"Peter Power was there. We consulted with the Attorney-General and other authorities at St. Paul and then paved the way for the bringing of the suits.
They suggested that the best place in which to bring the suits was at Minneapolis."
"Did you then state to Gov. Van Sant that you represented some strong and influential people in New York?"
Will you state who they are?"
Bourke Cockran in It.
"I will. The people I believe I represented are Power, Camille Weidenfeld, Edwin H. Thomas, E. M. Post and
Bourke Cockran."
"You have stated that you considered
Mr. Bourke Cockran a material witness and he could give very material evidence?"
"Yes, from a long experience with Mr. Cockran I knew that Mr. Weiden-feld never undertook any matter without the full confidence of Mr. Cockran.
Further, I had previous affairs with Mr. Cockran. I will add also to the list of names that I represented H. Content & Co. and had numerous conferences in their office. As to the firm of Thomas & Post, I am not sure I represented it, but I am sure I represented Mr. Thomas."

Has Had Several Checks.
"As to the contributions made, I have received no money from any except
Mr. Weidenfeld and Capt. Stern. Mr.
Weidenfeld himself handed me a check for $1,000 to pay the expenses of Mr.
Power."
"To whose order was that drawn?"
"To my order on the American Exchange Bank. That check will speak for itself."
"Any other checks?"
"Yes, one on Aug. 4 for $600, and another for $200. When I speak of his checks it must be known that he has two sets of checks; one by Lawson, Weidenfeld and Co., and the other Camille Weidenfeld."
"Did Mr. Weidenfeld make a payment to you on July 30 of $750?"
"Yes, the payments were made on account of these litigation."
The whole story was now coming out.
Mr. Lamb was giving his testimony in a mild, determined manner.
"Did you on July 30 have conference with Parker G. Chandler, about these matters?"

JUDGE CADDY.

feld would take no steps without Mr.
Cockran's knowledge and approval.
Mr. Guthrie pursued his theory to the end. He believed that Mr. Cockran was one of the prominent men behind the Power case.
"It appears you also had a talk with Capt. Stern, in which it was said the Contents had withdrawn from the litigation—When was that talk? You will recall that the certificate of N. P. stock was purchased before you went west?"
"Yes."
"In regard to Mr. Cockran, is it not a fact your knowledge of his interest in the litigation came from Mr. Weiden-feld?"
"Yes, partly. As far as a man can know I know Mr. Cockran was interested."
"You told us Mr. Cockran would make an important witness."
"I am quite convinced that Mr. Cock-ran knew all about these matters and was financially interested. He was present at the conference in Mr. Weiden-feld's office, and I know Mr. Weiden-

LAWYER GUTHRIE.

persons in the litigation."
"Who paid the expenses of the lawyers
from the west when they came here?"
"Mr. Weidenfeld. The night before they left to come here Mr. Weidenfeld and Capt. Stern had a conference at the Buckingham Hotel when Mr. Weidenfeld gave me a check for $1,000 for the lawyers."
"Did Mr. Power know all that you were doing?"
"Oh, yes, he knew all. He kept track of the details."
"Was he ever present at interviews
with Judge Lancaster?"
"Oh, yes. When the complaint was signed, and he was present when we obtained the injunction."
"Did you also communicate by letter with Capt. Stern?"
"Yes, two or three times. Copies of these letters can be had in the office of Judge Lancaster. Those letters relate to the whole matter."
Want to Get at the Bottom.
"So far as professional privilege is concerned are you willing to give us the whole truth of your association with Mr.
Weidenfeld regarding these suits?"
"I have no objection to Mr. Lamb telling everything," interrupted Judge Caddy.
"I know that before the case closed the facts must develop."

MUST END STRIKE, SAYS THE BISHOP.

Rt. Rev. Dr. Potter Insists that Trouble Be Arbitrated at Once.

Bishop Potter left to-day for Cooperstown, N. Y., to meet Mrs. Clark, whom he is shortly to marry. He will remain there indefinitely. Before leaving the Bishop denied emphatically that he intended visiting J. P.
Morgan's office to see George W. Perkins regarding a possible settlement of the coal strike.
"It is true," declared Bishop Potter, "Mr. Morgan used the expression,
'See Perkins,' but I will not go to see him. The statement that I intended to see Mr. Perkins has placed me in a false light."
"While I still deeply sympathize with the striking miners, I am afraid
the strike matters have gotten beyond me. I have only returned from an extended trip abroad and have not been able to collect all the details regarding the strike. I shall do so as quickly as I can. My interest in the matter is not flagging, and I HAVE NOT DROPPED IT."

Conference with Easy.
"I have had a long conference with Ralph L. Easy, Secretary of the Civic Federal, and got what details regarding the strike I could from him.
We talked the matter over, but reached no definite conclusion. I personally am not prepared to do anything just now."
"The coal strike ought to be settled immediately. IT SHOULD BE DONE BY ARBITRATION. It is not too great a problem to be settled even yet by arbitration, although it has gone pretty far. I believe the ta board of arbitrators can settle the entire matter satisfactorily to both sides."
"I shall not lose sight of the matter during my visit to Cooperstown. I shall keep in touch as far as possible with the situation, and while there is nothing I can do just now, I may be heard from later."

To Get Hanna's Views.
Bishop Potter took with him considerable baggage, and when pressed to state
when he might return, replied that it was impossible for him to say.
"I may be gone for a fortnight or for a month, I cannot say," he said.
It is Bishop Potter's intention to communicate with Senator Hanna immediately he arrives at Cooperstown. He believes that Senator Hanna may be able to offer a solution of the strike problem.
Bishop Potter's views on arbitration are backed by public sentiment, as was shown by the Morning World.

Governors of States, Mayors of cities, prominent capitalists, men of affairs indorse The World's demand that the differences of the men with the operators be submitted to arbitration in such forceful terms that it comes in the nature of a demand from the public.

Morgan Takes No Step.
J. P. Morgan arrived at his office a few minutes after 11 o'clock. There was no one waiting to see him at the moment, and his appearance passed almost unnoticed. He looked as well as he did yesterday, and seemed up the stem of

HAS REMINGTON'S BRAIN EXAMINED.

Brother of Newport Suicide
Causes Post-Mortem Held After Consultation with Attorneys and Surgeons.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 21.—Edward Remington, brother of the late Robert Remington, held a long conference to-day with his attorney, Seth T.
McCormick, after which Dr. S. G. D.
Nutt and H. G. McCormick were called in for consultation. Later the surgeon and physician, accompanied by Dr. Ford Wedding, held a post-mortem on the body.
While the doctors will not say so, it is stated that the head of the dead man was cut open and the brain examined.
